

GDPR and Data Protection Policy

1. Introduction

We may have to collect and use information about people with whom we work. This personal information must be handled and dealt with properly, however it is collected, recorded and used and whether it be on paper, in computer records or recorded by any other means.

Page | 1

We regard the lawful and correct treatment of personal information as very important to our successful operation and to maintaining confidence between us and those with whom we carry out business. We will ensure that we treat personal information lawfully and correctly.

To this end we are fully endorsed and are dear to the principles of the general data protection regulation (GDPR).

This policy applies to the processing of personal data in manual and electronic records, kept by us in connection with our management and committee function as described below. It also covers our response to any data breach and any other rights under the GDPR.

This policy applies to the personal data of job applicants, existing and former employees, apprentices, volunteers, placement students, workers and self-employed contractors. These are referred to in this policy as relevant individuals.

2. Definitions

“Personal data” is information that relates to identifiable person who can be directly or indirectly identified from that information, for example of person’s name, identification number, location, online identifier. It can also include pseudonymised data.

Company Number 08097171

“Special categories of personal data” is data which relates to an individual's health, sex life, sexual orientation, race, ethnic origin, political opinion, religion and trade union membership. It also includes criminal offence data is data which relates to an individual's criminal convictions and offences.

Page | 2

“Data processing” is any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether by automated means, such as collection, recording, organization, structuring storage, adaptation or alteration retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination restriction eraser or destruction.

3. Data Protection Principle

Under GDPR, all personal data obtained and held by us must be processed according to a set of core principles. In accordance with these principles, we will ensure that:

- a) processing will be fair, lawful and transparent
- b) data will be collected for specific, explicit and legitimate purposes
- c) data collected will be adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary for the purposes of processing
- d) data will be kept accurate and up to date. Data which is found to be inaccurate will be rectified or erased without delay
- e) data is not kept for longer than is necessary for its given purpose
- f) data will be processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security of personal data including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing, accidental loss, destruction or damage by using appropriate technical or organisation measures
- g) we will comply with the relevant GDPR producers for international transferring of personal data

Company Number 08097171

4. Types of Data held

We keep several categories of personal data on our employees in order to carry out effective and efficient processes. We keep this data in a personal file relating to each employee and we also hold the data within our computer systems, for example, our holiday booking system.

Specifically, we hold the following types of data:

- a) Personal data such as name, address and phone numbers
- b) Information gathered via the recruitment process such as that entered in a CV or included in a CV cover letter, references from former employees, details on your education and employment history etc.
- c) Details relating to pay administration such as a national insurance number, bank account details, and tax codes
- d) Medical or health information
- e) Information relating to your employment with us, including
 - 1) job title and job description
 - 2) your salary
 - 3) your wider terms and conditions of employment
 - 4) details of formal and informal proceedings involving you such as letters of concern, disciplinary and grievance proceedings, your annual leave records, appraisal and performance information
 - 5) internal and external training modules undertaken

All the above information is required for our processing activities. More information on those processing activities are included in our privacy notice for employees, which is available from your manager.

5. Employee Rights

You have the following rights in relation to the personal data we hold on you:

Company Number 08097171

- a) The right to be informed about the data we hold on you and what we do with it
- b) The right of access to the data we hold on you. More information on this can be found in the section headed "access to data" below and in our separate policy on Subject Access Requests
- c) The right for any inaccuracies in the data we hold on you, however they come into light, to be correct. This is also known as 'rectification'
- d) The right to have data deleted in certain circumstances. This is also known as erasure
- e) The right to restrict the processing of the data
- f) The right to transfer information we have on you to another party. This is also known as portability
- g) The right to object to the inclusion of any information
- h) The right to regulate any automated decision making and profiling of personal data

More information can be found on each of these rights under Employee rights under GDPR at <https://ico.org.uk/>

6. Responsibilities

In order to protect the personal data of relevant individuals, those within our business who must process data as part of their role have been made aware of our policies of data protection. We have also appointed employees with responsibility for reviewing and auditing our data protection systems.

7. Lawful bases of processing

We acknowledge that processing may only be carried out where a lawful basis for that processing exists and we have assigned a lawful basis against each processing activity.

Where no other lawful basis applies, we may seek to rely on the employees consent in order to process data.

Company Number 08097171

However, we recognise the high standard attached to its use. We understand that consent must be freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous. Where consent is to be sought, we will do so on a specific and individual basis where appropriate. Employees will be given clear instructions on the desired processing activity, informed of the consequences of their consent and of their clear right to withdraw consent and any time.

8. Access to data

As stated above, employees have a right to access the personal data that we hold on them. To exercise this right, employees should make a subject access request. We will comply with the request without delay, within one month and less, in accordance with legislation, we decide that an extension is required. Those who make a request will be kept informed of any decision to extend the time limit.

No charge will be made for complying with a request unless the request is manifestly unfounded, excessive or repetitive, or unless a request is made for duplicate copies to be provided to parties other than the employee making the request. In these circumstances, a reasonable charge will be applied.

Further information on making a subject access request is contained in the subject access request policy at <https://ico.org.uk/>.

9. Data Disclosures

The company may be required to disclose certain data / information to any person. The circumstances leading to such disclosures include:

- a) Any employee benefits operated by third parties
- b) Disabled individual – whether any reasonable required to assist them at work

Company Number 08097171

- c) Individuals health data – to comply with health and safety or occupational health towards the employee
- d) For statutory sick pay purposes
- e) HR management and administration – to consider how an individual's health effects his or her ability to do their job
- f) The smooth operation of any employee pension plans
- g) To assist law enforcement or a relevant authority to prevent or detect crime or prosecute offenders or to assess or collect any tax or duty

Page | 6

These kinds of disclosures will only be made when strictly necessary for the purpose.

10. Data Security

All our employees are aware that a hard copy personal information should be kept in a locked filing cabinet, drawer, or safe.

Employees are aware of their roles and responsibilities when their role involves the processing of data. All employees are instructed to store files or written information of a confidential nature in a secure manner so that they are only accessed by people who have a need and a right to access them and to ensure that screen locks are implemented on all PC's laptops etc. when unattended. NO files or written information of a confidential nature are to be left where they can be read by unauthorised people.

Where data is computerised, it should be coded, encrypted or password protected both on a local hard drive and on a network that is regularly backed up. If a copy is kept on a removable storage media, that media must itself be kept in a locked filing cabinet, drawer or safe.

Company Number 08097171

Employees must always use the passwords provided to access the computer system and not abuse them by passing them on to people who should not have them. Personal data relating to employees should not be kept or transported on laptops, USB sticks or similar devices, unless prior authorisation has been received. Where personal data is recorded on any such device it should be protected by:

- a) Ensuring that the data is recorded on such devices only where necessary.
- b) Using an encrypted system – a folder should be created to store the files that need extra protection and all files created or moved to this folder should be automatically encrypted.
- c) Ensuring that laptops or USB drives are not left where they can be stolen.

Failure to follow the company's rules on data security may be dealt with via the company's disciplinary procedure. Appropriate sanctions include dismissal with or without notice dependant on the severity of the failure.

11. Third Party Processing

Where we engage third parties to process data on our behalf, we will ensure, via a data processing agreement with the third party, that the third party takes such measures in order to maintain the company's commitment to protecting data.

12. International Data Transfers

The company does not transfer personal data to any recipients outside of the EEA.

13. Requirement to notify Breaches

All data breaches will be recorded on our data breach register. Where legally required, we will report a breach to the information commissioner within 72 hours of discovery. In addition, where legally required, we will inform the individual whose data was subject to breach.

Company Number 08097171

More information on breach notification is available at <https://ico.org.uk/>

Page | 8

14. Training

New employees must read and understand the policies on data protection as part of their induction.

All employees receive training covering basic information about confidentiality, data protection and the action to take upon identifying a potential data breach.

All employees who need to use the computer system are trained to protect individual's private data, to ensure data security, and to understand the consequences to them as individuals and the company of any potential lapses and breached of the company's policies and procedures.

15. Records

The company keeps records of its processing activities including the purpose for the processing and retention periods in its HR Data Record. These records will be kept up to date so that they reflect current processing activities.

16. Data Protection Compliance

Our appointed compliance officers in respect of our data protection activities are:

Mrs Jenny Hickling, Trustee – jenny@hicklinghouse.com

Mrs Joanne Hill, Treasurer – hiltonvillagehallbookings@hotmail.com

Company Number 08097171